

Solar cooking with Somali refugees in Ethiopia

In Ethiopia Steve made solar cookers with the Ethiopian and Somali people at the Agape Reading Center. The Somali people are already refugees in Ethiopia and in great financial need. Solar cooking is a free source of energy to that allows them to cook without having to use firewood. An Ethiopian couple also was excited to learn how to make solar cookers because they run an orphanage near the Somali border and have 30 little mouths to feed 3 times a day! If you would like to help provide solar cookers for this orphanage please contact us.

Ngiha is the daughter of Somali couple Ali and his wife Daeka. We celebrated her birthday along with that of her brother and sister.

We made cookers from the wheel chair boxes that had been donated to the handicap people of Ethiopia. A double use of the resources God has put at our disposal.

We cooked cake, rice, and meat and enjoyed eating it too!

We made sure we had time to have a B-day party too! Somali/American style!!!
